Naval Secretary Appears Before
House Committee With His Views

HAMPERED BY ECONOMY.

Representative Desires to Give Cabinet Official Free Rein
in Hearing

Washington, D. C.—Although he declared the navy department wanted a navy that would accord with the 5-5-3 ratio of all down the line, Secretary Wilbur told the house naval committee Thursday that because of the administration's economy policy, he could not recommend a gun elevation program nor endorsement spending $70,000,000 for new construction.

Decision to request the secretary to appear was reached at a stormy session last week. The motion was adopted, being made at the suggestion of Chairman Butler, who said he offered it because it had been charged with attempting to override the will of the committee. The chairman previously had told the committee he had hoped that within the year 1925 another arms limitation conference might be called, a statement later confirmed at the White House.

LACK OF DEFINITE SCOPE

The committee is proceeding with out any definite scope of inquiry, believing that in view of the many conflicting statements as to the strength and condition of the battle fleet, the secretary should be given a free rein in his discussion of the matter.

The senate naval committee in its report on the naval supply bill, already passed by the house, concurred in the view of the house appropriations subcommittee which drafted the measure that "the country need not be alarmed" over reports that the navy has fallen below the 5-5-3 ratio.

The house committee also had heard Thursday a communication from Secretary Hughes responding to the request of a house resolution proposed by Representative Britton of Illinois, ranking Republican on the committee, that the secretary furnish all data in his possession on the question of the elevation of the turret guns on American battleships. The resolution particularly sought information as to what representations have been made by foreign powers on the question, which has figured conspicuously in the naval controversy.

SECRET SESSION OPENS DRY PROBE

Investigation of Prohibition Enforcement Unit Starts Behind Closed Doors

Washington, D. C.—Under the leadership of Senator Watson, Republican of Indiana, administration forces succeeded Thursday in having the opening of the senate investigation of the prohibition unit held behind closed doors. Chairman Couzens had planned to have open sessions, but when the committee met Senator Watson demanded an executive session. He had fought the course of Senator Couzens in the senate.

Four members of the committee—Senators Couzens and Watson and Brnsl, Republican Kentucky and King, Democrat—are present. At the start and after Senator Jones, Democrat, New Mexico, had been summoned, Chairman Couzens announced that it had been decided to have at least the initial session in secret.

GIVEN UP AS LOST!

So concluded the Central Motor Car Company, this city, when they missed a spare tire from one of their cars. They could not see how it possibly could have been lost, so concluded that someone had taken it. Two weeks after the occurrence they placed a claim for the tire in the hands of their Insurance Company. As a matter of form the Insurance representative suggested that they advertise the loss. It being two weeks after the tire disappeared, the Central Motor Car Co. of course did not expect any response. Imagine their surprise when the next morning after the ad appeared a lady called and stated that her son had found such a tire.

The above proves that Post-Crescent Classified ads are read and read consistently. Ad taker 543.

TREATY PERMITS GUN ELEVATION, HUGHES THEORY

Secretary Says Britain Objects
but Japan Agrees to American Views

By Associated Press
Washington, D. C.—Secretary Hughes in a letter read Thursday to the house naval committee, took the position that elevation of guns on American capital ships would not violate the arms treaty although it might have the unfortunate effect to promote naval competition.

The letter also recited that while Great Britain had taken the view that the alterations proposed would be a violation of the treaty, Japan took the opposite position. Mr. Hughes wrote the committee in response to a resolution asking whether any protests against the elevation program had been made by foreign powers. The British ambassador, he said, on March 15, 1923, had brought up the subject, "earnestly appealing" to the state department against any alteration of the present gun elevations, and giving positive assurances that no such alterations had been made on any British capital ship after its commission.

The British view, the secretary said, was that the changes proposed in American ships would constitute "major alterations" prohibited by the treaty. Mr. Hughes agreed with the Japanese opinion that they should be regarded as "minor alterations" not violating the treaty. But he added that he believed they might tend toward a revival of competition out of harmony with the well established position of the United States.

REFUSE PLEA TO CUT SUGAR RATE

Interstate Commerce Commission Forbids Discrimination by Railways

By Associated Press
Washington, D. C.—The Great Northern and Northern Pacific railways Thursday were refused permission by the Interstate Commerce commission to make, as they had requested, a special low rate on sugar moving from Billings, Mont., to St. Paul, Minneapolis and Duluth.

The two roads sought to make the reduction in the interest of Billings sugar refinery interests, and in making it, desired to maintain rates to other northwestern points at the present level. The commission held such a reduction would be a violation of the long and short haul clause of the interstate commerce act and would not be justified.

BAND WILL PLAY CONCERT TUESDAY

The 120th Field Artillery band, under the direction of Edward F. Mumma, will present a concert in Lawrence Memorial chapel Tuesday evening, Jan. 13. The public is invited to attend. Mr. Mumma has announced a free concert for every two weeks. He said that an endeavor would be made to include on each program entertainment besides band music.

The popularity of the last few concerts indicate that an exceptionally large crowd will attend the one on Tuesday evening.

SACHTJEN RESIGNS AS PROHIBITION CHIEF

Madison — Herman W. Sachten, state prohibition commissioner, resigned that office Thursday in a letter to Governor John J. The resignation is effective Jan. 12.

Seek End Of Long Muscle Shoal Fight

By Associated Press
Washington, D. C.—The senate proceeded with the Muscle Shoals problem Thursday under a voting agreement that should clear the way for an early end of the long fight over the question.

The agreement, reached suddenly late Wednesday calls for a vote by 4 P. M. on substituting the Underwood leasing bill for the Norris government operation measure. Although a close vote was in prospect, Underwood supporters expressed confidence over the outcome.

Substitution of the Underwood bill would still leave a final vote to be taken on enactment, and in the meantime it would give opportunity to open preferred status as an amendment for the proposal of Senator Jones, Republican of Washington, to refer the entire Muscle Shoals question to a commission for recommendations to the next congress.

RAILS OPEN FIRE ON CURTAIN LAW

Ruling Violates Transportation Act of 1919, Basis of Contention

By Associated Press
Madison — Suit attacking the curtain law recently upheld by the United States circuit court, was filed here Thursday by the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul Railroad Co., against the State of Wisconsin and the industrial commission.

The law requiring engines and tanks to carry curtains, was passed by the last legislature. Its enforcement was contested by the Chicago and Northwestern, Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul, Chicago and Great Northern, and Chicago, St. Paul, Minneapolis and Omaha railroads. The court held the industrial commission exceeded its jurisdiction in ordering installation of curtains on engines, tanks and the commission amended the order, instructing railroads to install curtains on the engines.

The new suit is based on the contention that the law violates the transportation act of 1919.

Interallied Conclave Promises Early Pact

Paris — The twenty-ninth interallied conference promises better than most of its predecessors although thus far it has accomplished nothing more than the preliminary amenities.

The outstanding fact of the moment is that talks outside the conference room between the principal characters have succeeded in creating an atmosphere so propitious that, in the words of Winston Churchill, British chancellor of the exchequer, "prospects of an early settlement are considered favorable."

These talks will continue Thursday and it is anticipated that when the conference reassembles Thursday afternoon a definite and effective plan will be ready to put before it.

Further information which Judge Olson said he was receiving "from all over the country" will be submitted to coroner's jury when it convenes Jan. 20.

Western Radicals In Congress Turn Satire On G.O.P. Deserters

Definition of "Regulars" Cast in Doubt When Republicans Fail to Support Administration

By DAVID LAWRENCE
Copyright 1924 by the Post Pub. Co.

Washington, D. C.—Who is regular now and what is regularity anyhow? This is the most embarrassing question being asked on Capitol Hill. For it leaves the friends of President Coolidge bewildered and puzzled and gives the radicals who recently were part of the Republican party their chance to turn satire and sarcasm on their colleagues.

President Coolidge has won in his fight to have the recent veto of the postal pay bill sustained but some of the best "regulars" in the Republican party deserted him. Senator Edge of New Jersey who was one of the prime movers in the fight to oust the western radicals from the Republican party for deserting President Coolidge in the last campaign turned on the president himself by voting to override the veto only to be trounced by the westerners for his irregularity. Again in this session as in the last the regulars have failed to give their wholehearted support to President Coolidge.

They voted to override his veto on the soldier bonus, ignored his repeated requests with respect to the Japanese provisions of the immigration law, refused to override the Wilson plan and many voted to override the Hursum bill for soldiers' pensions.

It had been confidently expected that with the results of the last election still ringing in their ears the Republican senators would stand by the president to a man—at least the theoretical students of government might have been sure of it. But practical politics doesn't work that way and in the list of Republican senators who did not stand by President Coolidge were Dale of Vermont, Elkins of West Virginia, Jones of Washington, McLean of Connecticut, McNary of Oregon, Means of Colorado, Moses of New Hampshire, Norris of Nebraska, David Reed of Pennsylvania, Shortridge of California, Standfield of Oregon, and James Wadsworth of New York. There were others like Shippen of Minnesota, Johnson of California, Brookhart of Iowa, and La Follette of Wisconsin who were inevitably opposed to the president on this issue but the surprise was that so many avowed regulars did not help Mr. Coolidge who won out by the narrow margin of one vote, and he had the assistance of Senators King, Utah, Owen of Oklahoma and Dial of South Carolina, Democrats.

MAILMEN NEED INCREASE
The news was a simple one. The postal employees have needed an increase in pay. Most everybody favored it, including the president, but Mr. Coolidge insisted that a means of providing the revenue be assured. Under the circumstances many a senator reversed himself and voted to sustain the veto particularly since another bill had been introduced to revise postal rates and give the needed revenue. This Mr. Coolidge is known to have favored as an alternative. The Sterling bill, however, has little chance of passage this session because it cannot be advanced on the calendar without special action which is unlikely.

The incident teaches that the problem of "regularity" has by no means been solved and that already some of the republicans who raised the question of desertion in the campaign wished they had put it on broader ground while some of the older heads in the republican party quietly point out that their advice to let the thing alone should have been taken in the first place because "regularity" has not yet been defined.

COOLIDGE GUESTS DISCUSS DRY LAW DURING BREAKFAST

Judge Elbert Gary and John D. Rockefeller Jr., Are Among Visitors

By Associated Press
Washington, D. C.—Law enforcement was discussed Thursday around the White House breakfast table.

The president's guests were Judge Elbert H. Gary, John D. Rockefeller Jr. and other members of a special committee representing the National Citizens Committee of One Thousand on law enforcement, which Wednesday in New York closed its annual meeting with the adoption of resolutions for presentation to the president, and the governors of the various states.

The resolution requested the president and the governors to urge all officials of "every rank and classification, appointive and elective, to join them by precept and personal example and so far as they may by active participation in all administrative efforts in maintaining among the citizens of our republic the high determination to obey and enforce the law of the land."

A second resolution "commends to the people of the United States and particularly to their official representative the attitude of the president in his obedience to the provisions of the eighteenth amendment to the constitution, in the hope that the example of the first citizens of our country may induce those who are now willfully violating the prohibition statute to accept his leadership in conduct and to endorse in practice the integrity of his fidelity to the supremacy of law."

University of Wisconsin Instructress Shows Improvement Overnight

FORMER WIFE TELLS TALE

Suicide Threatened to End Life Before, Former Wife Tells Officers

By Associated Press
Madison — The condition of Miss Lora Palmer, 28, instructress in the University of Wisconsin who was shot Wednesday by F. X. Bernard, 32, who then took his own life, was improved early Thursday and physicians at the general hospital were hopeful that she would recover.

Because of her weakened condition it was decided not to question her Wednesday night and District Attorney Phillip La Follette was awaiting word from the physicians Thursday morning before interviewing her. She doubtless was shot at the French house where she was chaperon, by Bernard, formerly a chemist at Hibbing, Minn., as a result of what apparently was the termination of a friendship between them, according to the district attorney who said a formal inquest was improbable.

Miss Palmer's mother arrived from LaCrosse Wednesday night. The body of Bernard was being held Wednesday pending word from relatives.

Superior—Mrs. Anna Bernard, divorced wife of F. X. Bernard, when advised that her former husband had shot Miss Lora Palmer, University of Wisconsin instructress, at Madison, said that Bernard had threatened her life several times, and had told her when he visited her Sunday in an effort to have her return to him, that a girl whose photograph he carried had "gone back on me; I'm through with her."

Mrs. Bernard has been living in a local hotel for some time. She told of her marriage to Bernard 15 years ago in Grand Rapids, Minn. They have two children, Marie, 14 years old, attending school in Duluth, and Frank, 12, living with Bernard's parents in Hibbing, Minn. The Bernards were divorced a year ago.

"He was here Sunday evening," Mrs. Bernard said, in referring to the visit of her divorced husband, "He said before leaving me then that I should not be surprised if he killed himself. He has made threats like that before, too."

"When he came to my house Sunday, the first thing he did was to show me a photograph of a girl which he carried in his pocket. She's gone back on me; I'm through with her," he said, as he handed me the picture.

"I don't know who the girl was but friends have said it was a picture of Miss Palmer (Miss Lora Palmer the other victim of the shooting)."

KNEW ABOUT AFFAIR
"Although my former husband never told me anything about this Miss Palmer, I knew he had an affair with a Madison university teacher as friends have informed me. I guess he loved her and when she scorned him he was very much broken up."

"He asked me when he came here Sunday if I couldn't go back and live with him. I refused to consider it and then he made his threat. When he left he stated he was going back to Hibbing, but evidently his intentions were to go to Madison that night."

"He was possessed of a violent temper and threatened my life several times when I was living with him. One time he went to the cellar of our home and returning with an axe brandished it above me."

Mrs. Bernard's sister, Mrs. John Hudson of Duluth, told substantially the same story. Interviewed in Duluth, her statements led to the district attorney's office in the hotel here. Mrs. Hudson stated positively that the "girl Bernard told his wife about was Miss Palmer."

"When Mrs. Bernard met Bernard 15 years ago," Mrs. Hudson said, "he could scarcely speak English. They were married shortly after becoming acquainted. My sister was a waitress at Grand Rapids at the time, 'Bernard met Miss Palmer at Hibbing,' Mrs. Hudson continued, 'and it was through her efforts that he obtained employment in the Junior college here. That was what she meant by those words 'I helped him through school.'"

CITY REMINDED OF PENDING SUITS TO RECOVER TAX BILLS

City Attorney Instructed to Prepare City's Defense for Legal Fight

Suits instituted against the city of Appleton by the First National and Citizens National banks for refund of alleged illegal taxes are pending in circuit court, the common council was reminded by A. C. Bosser, city attorney, Wednesday evening.

The cases are similar to a number of others in Wisconsin cities and a test case has been carried to the Supreme court. They are based upon the claim that national bank stock is being taxed in violation of the constitution. Mr. Bosser said he was not asking for the employment of additional counsel at this time but that this might become necessary later. He was authorized to expend any necessary money in preparing the city's defense.

EXPECT TAX KICKS

Application of the homestead exemption law was expected to increase the usual number of claims for tax rebates this year. For that reason it was decided that all claims should go to the committee on rebate first before they are presented to the council. Mayor Goodland appointed the following to serve on the committee: Aldermen Beske, Callahan, Smith, Eggert, Foss and Steinhauer.

Alderman Charles Foss who has been absent from council meetings for several weeks on account of illness was back at his desk at the Wednesday evening session. When the council adjourned, it was until Thursday, Jan. 15.

$2,000 FOR PARKS

Upon request of the park commission of the council authorized the $2,000 of the $15,000 allotted for park purposes in 1925 be transferred from the general fund to the park fund.

Two lights were ordered placed on South Cherry st between the bridge and Seymour st, one on the corner of Mason and Elsie sts, and one on the corner of Prospect and Mueller sts.

The Wausau Iron works, builders of the Cherry st bridge, asked to have a percentage of the remainder of the amount due them turned over at this time. They suggested that a smaller sum be withheld until the completion of the bridge at the pier on the channel and other finishing work next spring. W. H. Elyce, resident engineer of Harrington, Howard & Asher, while not recommending any action for the council suggested that approximately $5,000 of the $30,000 balance be withheld. The matter was referred to the board of public works for disposal.

WANT NEW STREET

A petition signed by about 80 property owners asked for the opening of a street through blocks 28 and 29 in the Third ward. One woman appeared to protest against that project, but the matter was referred to the street committee and the objectors instructed to bring her complaint in at a later meeting.

A proposed amendment to the zoning ordinance changing the boundary lines of local business districts on Main st in the Fourth ward was again submitted, and then order published and referred to the ordinance committee. The project is signed to permit Ed. Pfeil to build a riding academy at that location. A permit had been refused by the building inspector, and the inspector was upheld by the board of appeals.

The city attorney was instructed to investigate the matter of a fire escape said to occasionally project over the sidewalk at the Fox River Paper company. One man was recently injured in bumping against it in the dark. Alderman McGillan said the fire escape does not project into the street except when it is pulled down by miscreants.

The water commission's request for extending the work of hydrant fire hydrants in the business district with larger hydrants next year was granted.

Henry Staedt, chairman of the dance committee, announced an old fashioned dance for Wednesday evening, Jan. 21, which will be given for members and their friends. Reports of committee were heard.

SUNSET PLAYERS IN FIRST STAGE PLAY AT COLLEGE

Phillip Barry's "You and I" Will Be Shown in Chapel Friday Evening

"You and I", the Sunset players' annual production and the first Lawrence dramatic presentation for the year, will be given Friday night, Jan. 9, in Lawrence Memorial chapel. The advance sale of tickets promises a large attendance, according to Marshall Hulbert, Green Lake, business manager. There will be no reserved seats.

The play was written by Philip Barry under Prof. Baker in the famous Harvard 47 workshop. A clever 3-act comedy with brilliant lines and dialogue, it had a long run in New York and Chicago. The story deals with a man whose marriage forced him to forsake his chosen work for business, and his son's solution of the same problem. Renny, the object of the son's affections, by sacrificing her love for him that he might pursue his art, complicates matters, although all are happy at the end of three acts of pathos and tears intermingled with many laughs.

Walter H. Maas, Rhinelander, plays the part of the business man, and Pauline MacMartin of Milwaukee is Renny, his wife. Robert Fugle, Appleton, playing Ricky, their son, is in love with Bessie Clausen, Racine, as the lovable Renny. Howard Bredlow, Marshfield acts as Geoffrey Nichols, a friend of the family; William Tubbs, Fond du Lac, plays a business man, and Lala Rosenweig, Mellon, is the maid.

The cast has been coached by Ruth Grote, Readsburg, under the supervision of Margaret Sherman of Appleton, former faculty member of the forensic department. Others at work on the production are Helena Koletzke and Theodore Clausen, publicists, Catherine Lighbody, stage manager, Victor Quam and Dorothy Asdut, costumes and property.

Not all the tragedies of life are played in the city. A mere farm may provide the background for as thrilling a drama as ever was unfolded. Minnie found that out. Born and raised on the farm, the discontent that came of drug-gery grew swiftly into revolt. She longed to escape—to meet great men and women—to enjoy the ease and pleasure she believed were to be found in the great world outside her own.

This true story of a farm-girl who wanted life and freedom, "right well be the story of any girl. It is entitled "A Strange Marriage" and appears as one of the many absorbing features in True Story Magazine for February.

REVOKE LICENSES OF FOOL DRIVERS POLICE HEADS URGE

Wisconsin Chiefs of Police Draft Auto Regulation Bill With Teeth in It

Plans for proposed legislation governing the licensing of automobile drivers were discussed by the executive committee of the Wisconsin Police Chiefs association at a meeting Monday and Tuesday in Milwaukee attended by Chief George T. Prim, Appleton, who is president of the association.

Changes have been made in the draft of the bill read to the association at its convention last fall. The old bill provided only for an examination of automobilists before they would be permitted to drive. The new bill puts teeth into the proposed law for it provides for revocation of drivers licenses in case of conviction of certain offenses.

Should the bill, which is to be submitted to legislature pass in its present form, the license of a drunken or reckless driver may after conviction, be revoked upon the recommendation of the sheriff of the county, the chief of police of a city, or the chief officer of the peace in any community. The license may be revoked either by justices of the peace or by superior courts. In case the license is revoked by a justice of the peace, the offender will have the right to appeal to the circuit court, according to the provisions of the bill.

The committee also discussed other police and traffic regulations. Milwaukee was selected as the place of the next convention of the city, and the date has been set for Oct. 14 and 15, 1925. It will be held in the Plankinton hotel.

The other members of the committee who attended the meeting were: Chief Thomas Malone, Wausau, chair man; Chief Thomas Calder, Merrill; Chief Thomas F. Curry, Portage; Chief Anton Trochell, Manitowish; O. K. Mann, Oconomowoc; Chief Henry Dowling, Oshkosh. R. W. McCarty, past president, also was in attendance.

STAGE AND SCREEN

"REVELATION" IS ONE OF GREATEST

"The most satisfying picture of the year," describes Metro's special production, "Revelation," which opened today at the Elita theatre. Story, cast and direction are all three of extraordinary worth, so that the spectator comes away from the theatre feeling that he has seen something head and shoulders above the ordinary feature.

Motion picture fans have been saying all along that the crying need is better stories. They are answered in "Revelation," for the story, which was written by Mabel Wagnalls, is a classic of the screen, and is destined to stand out as one of the mile stones in film history.

With such a story to work on, the chance was there to make a great picture, and George D. Baker, the director, never let an opportunity slip by. His good taste and tenderness in handling the subject is always manifest.

HAS WONDERFUL CAST The picture is superbly acted by a real all-star cast that includes such favorites as Viola Dana, Monte Blue, Lew Cody, Marjorie Daw, Frank Currier, Edward Connelly, George Siegmann, Kathleen Key, Otto Matsson, Bruce Guerin and Ethel Wales. The actors all seemed inspired. Viola Dana and Monte Blue, who carry the chief acting burden, doing by far the

SUNDAY SCHOOL MENTORS ARE TOLD WHAT TO TEACH

The teachers prepared a list of recommendations for Sunday school officers which they will present at the annual meeting of the congregation a week from Thursday.

best work they have ever contributed to the screen.

PETTED YOUTH FINDS HIS MANHOOD IN RING

Bryant Washburn, who personally believes that anything can be accomplished through confidence, plays a role in "Twenty-One" of a youth who has had all the manhood petted and pampered out of him, and who finds himself when a queer twist of Fate places him in the prize ring. He there learns that he has a punch, and the confidence inspired by the knowledge helps him to overcome all other difficulties.

In brief, the story deals with the arrival at the age of twenty-one of a young man who has been mollycoddled all his life. Through an amusing series of incidents his rightful place at home is usurped by a professional pugilist. In trying to regain his former place the young man has many adventures, including a battle in the prize ring against a professional boxer. A thread of romance is attractive, woven into the cleverly developed story.

"Twenty-One" at the New Bijou Friday and Saturday is a screen adaptation of the popular novel by George Randolph Chester, and it provides the popular Bryant Washburn with two roles widely differing in character. And it being the brain child of Mr. Chester, means that it is brimful of humor.

A MAN MUST LIVE

The screen's first real news-paper reporter.

That's Richard Dix's role in his latest Paramount starring picture, "A Man Must Live" which opens at the Appleton Theatre on this Thursday.

Dix's role is that of Geoffrey Farnell, returned World War veteran who gets a job as a reporter on Job Hardcastle's paper—one of those sheets that thrive on the misfortune of others. Jeff has a soft heart and feels kindly toward the world even though he did get a rough deal. Hardcastle gives him his last chance to make good when he sends him on a story about the famous "Mops" Collins, once the toast of Broadway. Farnell finds her dancing in a dingy cabaret. She is ill and Jeff, reporting failure to his paper, cares for her. Farnell is fired, Mops gets worse and Jeff gets broke. He pleads for her aid from Hardcastle promising to bring in a story within a week that will fairly burn up the presses.

Dix comes through like a million in this one. "A Man Must Live" is a picture!

Three acts of Vaudeville of the usual Appleton Theatre perfection help to promulge an unusual evenings entertainment.

USE SULPHUR TO HEAL YOUR SKIN

Broken Out Skin and Itching Eczema Helped Over Night

For unsightly skin eruptions, rash or blotches on face, neck, arms or body, you do not have to wait for relief from torture or embarrassment, declares a noted skin specialist. Apply a little Mentho-Sulphur and improvement shows next day.

Because of its germ destroying properties, nothing has ever been found to take the place of this sulphur preparation. The moment you apply it healing begins. Only those who have had unsightly skin troubles can know the delight this Mentho-Sulphur brings. Even fiery, itching eczema is dried right up.

Get a small jar of Rowles Mentho-Sulphur from any good druggist and use it like cold cream.

COUNTY ATTORNEY MAY GET PAID FOR FULL TIME SERVICE

Finance Committee Considering Establishment of Office in Courthouse

A plan of establishing an office for the district attorney in the courthouse and increasing his salary to an amount that would make it possible to give up his own private office was discussed by the county finance committee at a meeting Tuesday.

The present salary of the district attorney is $2,000, while that of assistant district attorney is $500. The proposal of fixing the district attorney's salary at $4,000 was considered. It was suggested that location of the office in the county building near the courts and the session chambers of the county board would be a great convenience to the people.

Bonds furnished by the various county officers were acknowledged. Owing to technical difficulties, there was some delay in obtaining bonds for L. M. Schindler, county surveyor, who on that account had failed to qualify for office before Monday, which was to have been the commencement of his term. Mr. Schindler

PLENTIFUL ICE SUPPLY FROM MACKVILLE POND

Dredging and cleaning of the Edward Ziegler fish pond in the town of Center last summer proved to be beneficial to this winter's ice harvest. After the water had been drained off and the fotsam removed, the pond was refilled from the spring so that it acquired a depth of about four feet. The severe cold in December was excellent for the ice harvest. Abundant supply is furnished several large users of ice. Among those now engaged in taking ice out of the pond are Joseph Galner, dealer in general merchandise at Mackville; Stammer's hall in Apple Creek; Joseph Merkel, cheesemaker on the town line of Center and Freedom, and the owner, Mr. Ziegler.

has applied for his bond and will submit it to the county in a few days. The Citizens National bank was put under $400,000 surety bonds. It is the depository of county funds.

WANT PRIVACY FOR SHERIFF'S OFFICE

New office quarters for the sheriff are sought by the county grounds and building committee. At present the sheriff has his office in the municipal courtroom, and often telephone calls interrupts cases in court. The question of opening an office in the jail or providing private office in the courthouse was considered. The proposal that seemed to carry most weight, however, was that of splitting the private office of Leo J. Toonen, assessor of incomes, into two offices.

This would give Sheriff Peter G. Schwartz an office leading from the circuit court chamber. The committee allowed a number of bills at its meeting Tuesday and inspected the alterations being made in the balcony of the circuit court room.

ORDER LIGHTING FIXTURES PUT UP AT CITY ICE RINKS

Aldermen Discuss Whole Proposition of Caring for Skating Rinks

Neenah—There will be more lights at the ice rink and there will be if Wm. Marty, alderman from the first ward has anything to say about it. The need of some kind of lighting at Columbian park, first ward, which has been turned into an ice skating rink by the city, was brought before Wednesday evening's meeting of the city council by L. Herzig, alderman from the fifth ward. This led to a heated discussion as some aldermen thought that partially was being shown by not lighting other rinks about the city. William Marty, alderman of the first ward said it was a waste of money to try to keep the link below the government dam and on the slough flooded. Mr. Marty, a member of the parks and public building committee, was instructed to arrange for proper lighting of the first ward rink.

Monthly reports of Charles Watts, chief of police; O. B. Baldwin, Justice L. C. Osborn, dealer of weights and measures; S. E. ## KELLY WANTS TO PUT SHARP TEETH INTO ORDINANCES

City Attorney Suggests New Laws to Divert Fines to Neenah Treasury

Neenah—In order that city of Neenah might receive the money paid as fines which now goes to the county, four new ordinances have been suggested by George Kelly, city attorney. Heretofore, cases of assault and battery, gambling, etc., have been taken to courts at Oshkosh, thus depriving this city of fines which should belong here. Stricter ordinances have been suggested. One ordinance is to cover disorderly conduct, one for gambling, one covering drunkenness and one to regulate pool rooms where card games are permitted. These new ordinances would call for heavier fines. During Wednesday night's council meeting when this matter was brought up for discussion, William Schmidt, alderman from Fifth ward, asked why bowling alleys were not regulated. Mr. Kelly replied that there was never an ordinance drawn to cover this matter.

Never Let a Cold Get a Start

Vapors Check a Cold Overnight

There are many ways to treat a cold but only one DIRECT way—with vapors that can be inhaled. Vapors penetrate immediately into every corner of the air passages and lungs, soothing and healing with every breath. Vicks is so remarkably successful in treating cold troubles because it acts like "a vapor lamp in salve form."

When rubbed over throat and chest the body heat releases vapors of Menthol, Camphor, Eucalyptus, Thyme and Turpentine. At the same time Vicks is absorbed through and stimulates the skin like a polioe or plaster. This double, direct action often checks the worst cold overnight.

U. S. IS SEEKING MUCH INFORMATION IN FARMER CENSUS

Marketing Facilities Are Being Stressed in Enumerators Work

Progress is being made in the farm census which is being taken in this country simultaneously with that of the entire United States. A number of enumerators were appointed, some to take charge of the work in one town and some placed over two towns. It is expected that the work will be completed within a month, if the weather is favorable.

The workers are under the direction of J. E. Collins, with headquarters in Wausau, who has 175 enumerators engaged in a district which includes 14 counties. Extreme cold weather slowed up the work in December, as it was difficult for the enumerators to get around, but some of them did fairly well.

The census was authorized by an act of congress and is being conducted by the United States department of commerce. Heretofore the census of agriculture always has been taken in connection with a complete census of population every ten years. The farm census at this five year period is designed for the special benefit of the agricultural and dairy industries.

NOT FOR ASSESSOR. Enumerators occasionally find a farmer who objects to or refuses to answer the questions for the census, fearing that the local assessors will come into the possession of the figures. Assurance is given by Mr. Collins that all reports are strictly confidential and no assessor can get to them. All facts and data will be merely compiled and grouped according to counties and states, but will indicate no individual farms or communities.

Questionnaires used in the census ask for information on twelve different subjects: Operator, tenure, acreage, value, debts, expenses, co-operative marketing, facilities, population, crops, livestock and livestock products and forest and forest products.

In addition to the usual questions about the race and nationality of the operator, facts pertaining to ownership, tenancy or management, acreage of cultivated, idle, harvested, pasture and woodlands, the schedule calls for values of farm lands, buildings and implements, the indebtedness on them, and the expenditures for feed, fertilizer, labor and taxes. It is important to ascertain just what the burden of taxation resting upon the farm really is and how it compares with the amount of taxes paid by other interests. This may point to a more equitable adjustment of the tax burden.

The extent to which the farmers used the purchasing and selling facilities of farmers organizations will be brought out by two groups of questions. One of them calls for information on markets, distances from cities and railroads, tractors, kinds of roads. Through inquiries of this kind the census seeks information relative to conditions upon which to a considerable degree the success of farm operation depends. Data pertaining to farm population, kinds and amounts of crops harvested, amount of woodland cleared, firewood cut, head of cattle and other livestock and the amount of dairy and other livestock products also are collected.

GOES TO FREIGHT HEARING FRIDAY

Hugh G. Corbett, secretary, will represent Appleton Chamber of Commerce at the meeting of shippers in Chicago Friday to take further steps in opposition to the increase of freight rates in the western trunk line territory.

A session will be held in the Red room of Hotel LaSalle in the morning, where an appeal to the interstate commerce commission probably will be prepared to prevent the new schedules from going into effect until an investigation has been made.

Traffic managers from various Wisconsin cities will meet Thursday evening in the Hotel LaSalle to discuss the situation. They arranged for this meeting when a committee was appointed from their number while in session with chamber of commerce officials at Wisconsin at Wausau recently. Concerted action will be taken to prevent the increases, if possible because they affect most cities of this state.

POWER COMPANY COMPLETES LINE

Upon completion of the condemnation proceedings conducted in the courthouse here to acquire disputed right of way over Outagamie-co farm property, the Northwestern Power company lost no time in stringing the wires on the uncompleted portion of the line. The work was finished before the start of the cold weather. There were but a few short gaps in Outagamie and Calumet-cos.

The transmission line extends from waterpower plants at High Falls and other points in northern Wisconsin to Oshkosh. It will be necessary to transfer the high tension current into that of lower voltage. To do that a substation is to be erected at Oshkosh. It is planned to have everything ready to transmit power as soon as the spring freshets come, thereby economizing on fuel at the Oshkosh plant in periods of highwater.

MAILCARRIERS FEAR FIRST WIND WILL BLOCK ROADS

Rural mail carriers consider themselves fortunate in still being able to use their automobiles over the country roads. In some years they were forced to use their sleighs as early as the middle of December. Sleighting is out of the question at this time, but in some spots travel by automobile also is difficult.

The great benefits to be derived from the cutting of weeds and brush on the side of the road can be seen in the present condition of travel. Wherever the weeds and brush were removed, the roads are practically bare of snow, but where the brush was left to stand, drifts gathered on the road making it hard for automobiles to get through. The snow is very fine and loose and rural carriers fear, the first strong wind will drift the roads shut.

Cheaper Cuts Of Some Meats Are Very Good

BY MRS. CHRISTINE FREDERICK
Many pieces seldom used at the family table deserve special mention. Extraordinary rich flavored steaks or soup. A stuffed beef heart is a most satisfying cold weather dish, especially when accompanied with noodles or spaghetti. Beef kidneys, together with inexpensive pieces of beef, in a beef and kidney pie covered with a baking-powder crust, make a hearty dish far out of proportion to its extremely low cost. No one who has not tried a fresh ham would believe how similar to chicken or the choicest veal is this unsmoked pork, which has practically no waste and which cuts to excellent advantage. While sweet breads are expensive in some localities, they and calves brains may be served occasionally as a pleasing change to heavier types of meat dishes. Tripe is another very economical piece which properly prepared, is worth considering as a winter breakfast or supper dish.

Certain meat pieces of a thin and flat nature, such as the flank, the brisket or a shoulder piece from the bones have been removed, are particularly suitable for roiling and stuffing. The stuffing adds greatly to the flavor and stretches the dish thus again making for economy. The beef flank, or skirt steak, and the shoulder-broast shank of lamb make especially good boneless rolls when filled with a cup or more of bread stuffing and cooked by the slow braising method.

In addition to making meats tender by the right cooking process various other helps may be followed. The coarse fibers may be pounded with a wooden mallet and thus broken and softened, or they may also be scored with a knife or a meat tenderizer. The use of the meat chopper also cuts coarse pieces fine and small and makes even a tough piece easier of mastication. Another very practical method more common abroad, is the use of vinegar and oil to soften and season meats before cooking. Thus a tough piece laid for several hours in a marinade of one tablespoon vinegar or lemon juice to three tablespoons oil with seasoning of salt and pepper, will be much more tender, due to the effect of the acid and oil on the muscle fiber. In other words, by means of these various practices cheap and coarse cuts can often be made sufficiently tender to be cooked for meats by a strictly tender cooking process such as roasting or broiling.

Since meat forms such a common article of daily diet, and thus represents a large proportion of the cost of the food budget it is a paying investment for every housewife to improve her knowledge of meat cuts and her skill in preparing the cheap cuts. For meats that are tender let them be short cooking at a high temperature for meats that are coarse fibered let there be long cooking at a low temperature—and this is all.—From The Designer

Clothes Must Harmonize With 1925 Mood And Spirit

BY HORIENSE SALDERS

New fashions—"The modern woman's clothes must express more than beauty and imagination and what we call style," says Henri Bendel, New York's foremost designer and importer. "They must fit into the mood of the hour. They must express 1925, no matter if the inspiration was 16th century."

"They must fit into the pattern of the day and because a part of the general panorama of loveliness, if a woman is to enjoy them and be distinctive."

"A designer to be successful must feel the trend of the times and know how it may best be expressed in lines and textures is essential. He may prefer the classic lines of the Greek robe or the picturesque quality of the modern age gown but he must feel these in terms of the 20th century."

To illustrate this point Mr. Bendel explained that the straight chemise frock which has become almost uniform is not a favorite with designers or creators of costumes.

It is easily copied adapts itself to all figures and tends to make women look alike instead of individual. But the straight rather unadorned frock suits a stentorian age that moves speedily and people who think quickly, rapidly, and have no time for the gracious curves and formalities of a less commercial age.

"But in the simplicity of today," Mr. Bendel points out, "there are many pitfalls. Line and cuts must be perfect as well as workmanship and materials. Accessories must not conflict with the costume.

"And most of all a woman must have an instinct for lines. She must know how to make her lines seem long and flowing if she is short and to camouflage a bad neck or shoulders without seeming to do so."

The photograph shows an adaptation of a Callot model Mr. Bendel made for Mary Young, late actress, and illustrates how much silhouette and style may be put into a simple chemise type of frock without confusing the line or making it impractical for dancing or theater wear.

"The back is extremely low," Bendel pointed out, "because Miss Young has a back perfect enough to stand such revelation. But this same model could have been built up in the back to suit any shoulder line."

"The white emme coat is in perfect proportion for her figure," he has been quoted as saying. It would have been proportioned differently.

There are stout women often parading about in skirts 16 inches from the floor presenting pictures of grotesqueness that makes them positively repulsive.

"The same gown dropped to a conservative distance from the floor would have style and beauty."

"There can be no beauty without balance or proportion."

"The chimneys. They have a grand time."

"And do you sweep them out?" asked Nick. "I don't think that's much fun for them."

"Oh no! No indeed!" said Johnny. "I just keep their houses clean for them. When I come around on cleaning day they hide in the flues and stick between the bricks until I'm tough. Then they come out."

"Devil me!" said Nancy. "I wish I could be a sweep and play with the Sooties."

"So do I," said Nick. "Hardly were the words out of their mouths when two pairs of little green shoes appeared in the snow before them."

"Now you can come with me," cried Johnny Sweep. "There are the magic shoes. Put them on and we'll ride my broom to the house top. I can take anyone with me if they have the magic shoes. The Fairy Queen said so. You see Chimney Land is one of our nine hundred and ninety nine kingdoms and I am one of her caretakers. Come along."

The Twins slipped off their own little shoes and put the magic ones on.

All three hopped on Johnny Sweep's broom and away they went toward Chimney Land.

Take Heed Of These Rules In Vamp Game

BY CYNTHIA GREY

You may resemble a composite picture of Peggy Joyce, Nina Naldi and other girls do look. And yet you will jark yourself against a wall while others dance unless you know—

That if a man is good looking, you must tell him how better he is. That is he is a mental giant you must say that he could double for Valentino.

That if he is dumb, you must rave over "those strong silent men."

And that if he is the kind that talks, you must keep your mouth shut, but your eyes open with admiration!

QUESTIONS—ANSWERS

Dear Miss Grey: I was in love with a married man several years ago, and I suppose I am what the world calls a woman with a "past." Now I am about to marry a man for whom I deeply care in quite another way. I am terribly afraid that he will find out about me, for the other man is the staggering type who boasts about the girls who are in love with him. What shall I do?—Mile K.

There's only one thing to do—tell the man you love all about yourself and take the consequences. Do this not through fear of the other man but because truth is the only basis for a happy marriage. Many a wife has been forgiven for childhood follies.

Dear Miss Grey: My beau always jumps into his machine ahead of me. The other night he did this and I refused to go out with him. Wasn't he in the wrong?—Furious

Of course, he was. But couldn't you have explained this point of etiquette to him without spoiling your evening? Try that next time.

AFTER LEAVING THE HOSPITAL

Was Weak and Miserable. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Restored Mrs. Anger's Strength

Lowell, Massachusetts. — "I read about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in the little books that you send around and I felt very good after I had taken a couple of bottles of it. I had been in the hospital and felt pretty well at first but I went down to nothing. I was weak and had to lie in bed almost all day."

I had dizzy and faint spells, pains in my back and lower parts and was so nervous I could not bear my children around. I hope the Vegetable Compound helps other women as it did me. I do all my own work now and feel so well. I have told my friends about it, and my sister and my aunt. — Mrs. OLIVE AUGER, 19 Howard Street, Lowell, Massachusetts.

Over 200,000 women have so far replied to our question, "Have you received benefit from taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound?"

85 out of every 100 of the replies say "Yes," and because the Vegetable Compound has been helping other women it should help you.

Famous Old Recipe for Cough Syrup

Easily and cheaply made at home, but it beats them all for quick results.

Thousands of housewives have found that they can save two-thirds of the money usually spent for cough preparations, by using this well-known old recipe for making cough syrup. It is simple and cheap but it has no equal for prompt results. It takes right hold of a cough and gives immediate relief, usually stopping an ordinary cough in 24 hours or less. Get 2 1/2 ounces of Pinex from any drug store, pour it into a pint bottle, and add plain granulated sugar syrup to make a full pint. If you prefer, use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup. Either way, it tastes good, keeps perfectly, and lasts a family a long time. It's truly astonishing how quickly it acts, penetrating through every air passage of the throat and lungs, loosens and raises the phlegm, soothes and heals the membranes, and gradually but surely the annoying throat tickle and hard cough disappear entirely. Nothing better for bronchitis, spasmodic croup, hoarseness or bronchial asthma. Pinex is a special and highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract known the world over for its healing effect on membranes. Avoid disappointment by asking your druggist for "2 1/2 oz. of Pinex" with full directions and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

The Wisconsin Plan of Financing Public Utility Growth

State - regulated public utility companies, growing and enlarging their service systems year after year to meet increased demands from increased population served, have to finance all new growth with new capital. They are not permitted by the state to earn a surplus sufficient to pay for new power plants, or gas plants, or car lines, or motor bus lines, or electric transmission lines. They are permitted, by a well settled state policy, to earn a fair return each year on their investment.

This year of 1925, The Electric Company and its associated Wisconsin utilities, planning to invest $10,000,000 in additions to their public service properties, must get $10,000,000 of new capital from private investors. A large part of this $10,000,000 will be raised by selling preferred shares of the companies that want the new capital, direct to Wisconsin investors, customers of the several companies and others who know the safety of these shares.

These home investors buy preferred owners' shares, paying State-approved dividends four times a year, in a permanent, prosperous, growing business—a business that is strictly regulated by the Wisconsin Railroad Commission for the equal protection of its customers, its employees and its investors.

These shares are among the Safest of all high grade stock investments. Their dividends, as stated above, are paid four times a year, by checks mailed to shareholders. The shares can be quickly sold, in case of need, at what they cost you, less $1 resale charge, when brought or sent to our offices by original buyers.

Our plan of selling shares either for all cash down or $5 monthly per $100 share, enables thousands of Wisconsin working-men and women to buy them and become part owners of the largest and strongest business of its kind in Wisconsin.

Our plan of making dividends on paid-up shares start from date of purchase, and of allowing interest equal to the dividend rate on monthly payments when installment purchases are completed, gives our investors the full income rate of the shares on every dollar invested in them, from the day you buy them.

We are now selling, with the State's approval, $1,000,000 of Wisconsin Electric Power Co. 6 1/2% cumulative preferred shares, to finance big additions to Lakeside, the most efficient steam-electric power station in the world, and the chief source of electric light, heat and power for the Greater Milwaukee district. We strongly recommend these shares, for maximum safety, and certainty of regular, permanent cash income, to all who have idle funds to invest, or who want 6 1/2% interest on current monthly savings.

APPLETON HIGH MEETS OSHKOSH IN HOME CONTEST

ORANGE QUINTEL IS PREPARED FOR STRONG INVADER

Sawdust City Schoolers Are Among Chief Rivals in Basketball Race

Appleton high school basketball fans Friday night will have their first chance of the year to see the Orange quintet in action on the home court when Oshkosh comes here to play in Armory C. The game will be one of the hardest of the season. Oshkosh and Fond du Lac being the two chief rivals of the Appleton school. They will be well matched, and will be fighting to shunt each other out of first place.

Appleton defeated Sheboygan last week in the last three minutes of the game. Frazer, a substitute on last year's first team, caged three baskets in rapid succession just before the end of the game to win 20 to 15. Otherwise Sheboygan had the edge during most of the game.

Coach Jule Kevin has drilled his youngsters to rely only on close shots, and has taught them to work the ball in close before attempting a shot. This method of play, while not as flashy as long shots is more reliable, but calls for plenty of hard work. Furthermore, the five-man defense has proved effective for the Appleton quintet and promises to give the Oshkosh invaders a hot evening.

GIANTS' MANAGER MAY DROP MEUSEL

New York—Mysterious silence at the office of the New York Giants gave emphasis to reports circulated Wednesday that Emil Meusel, the big outfielder of the team had been waived out of the National league because the Giants didn't want him any more and because the other clubs in the league refused to assume responsibility for the large salary specified in his contract.

Meusel who hit 210 last summer, one of the dependable swatters of the club declined considerably in his fielding and spent much of his time on the bench towards the close of the 1924 season. However, it was surprising to New Yorkers to hear that the Giants were trying to dispose of him and that no other teams in the league wanted him.

It is understood that the St. Louis Browns would be willing to take over Meusel's contract if the National league let him get away.

Emil is a brother of Bob Meusel, outfielder of the Yankees. They played against one another in three world series.

At the Giants' offices nobody was willing to discuss Meusel's standing at present.

Bush's Ability Gives Browns Edge In Deal

St. Louis—"Joe Bush's ability to bat and play the outfield makes him more valuable than Shocker in an even trade, says George Sisler in discussing the recent deal which sent his star pitcher to New York."

"While realizing that Bush is slipping as a pitcher, isn't the loss of five or six years ago, the same holds good for Shocker."

"However, Bush can do something beside pitch. He is a fine outfielder and a great hitter. Last season he was the first choice of Miller Huggins, when the Yankee manager wanted a right-handed, punch-hitter."

"Bush has the ability to win an outfield berth on most any club in the American League. A player of ability, aside from his pitching value, would bring big money if he was in the minors."

"I expect Bush to have at least a couple of good years with us as a pitcher. Then if we so desire we can try him regularly in the outfield."

"I feel that the Browns got the edge in the deal. Anyone who knows the worth of Gaston as a pitcher will tell you he is one of the most promising youngsters in the American League."

"The Yanks need pitching material. A veteran who could be banked on to win 20 games," says Miller Huggins. "I feel we got such a player in Shocker. If he comes through we should win the pennant."

WALKER WINS BUT McTIGUE RETAINS HIS WORLD TITLE

Light Heavy Champ Loses Tame Battle but New Jersey Forbids Decision

Newark, N. J.—Mickey Walker, welterweight champion of the world, would be holding another crown Thursday had he boxed Mike McTigue, world's light heavyweight champion, in New York state Wednesday night. Walker defeated the king of the 175 pounders in the open ring, in a tame 12 round contest but the boxing laws of Jersey forbid a decision. As a result Walker still is champion only in his division despite the fact that he beat McTigue decisively.

McTigue retained his championship which could be taken from him only by a knockout or foul. He fought defensively and his poundage and long arms withstood the best his smaller and younger opponent could master.

On boxing points alone, Walker won, but McTigue refused to accept any damage.

Post-Crescent Ice Races For Benefit Of Skaters Alone

Annual Tournament Will Die of Neglect Unless Fans Give Full Support This Week

Several years ago before the Post-Crescent skating tournament became an annual event, scores of fans kept agitating for competitive races. To satisfy them and because it was best fitted to promote such an event the Post-Crescent inaugurated the movement and with the cooperation of skaters throughout the city made the first tournament a big success.

The second tourney last season attracted thousands of fans and more than 80 entrants. This year less than a dozen entries have been received with the closing of entry lists but seven days off, and unless they come in faster the annual tournament will be a thing of the past.

The tournament is run for the exclusive benefit of skaters and fans who like to watch such competitions. All the expense and effort is borne by the Post-Crescent, but without cooperation between promoters and competitors nothing can be done.

The prizes are heavy gold medals and a large silver loving cup, which carry with them the championships of the Fox River valley in the events in which they are won. The medals themselves have a considerable intrinsic value enhanced by their significance and association. They are worth trying for.

More than a dozen of last year's competitors are known to be planning to enter, but as yet they have failed to do so. In events of this kind there must always be a few who set the ball rolling. Joe Sharp who last year ran his brother, Percy, the champion, a close second, has entered the men's events and probably will draw several of his friends in.

Towns and cities outside of Appleton have yet to send in their first entry. It begins to look as though the outsiders lacked confidence in their own ability. Even Kaukauna, Neenah and Menasha, usually eager to enter any competition with Appleton, have failed to take notice of the challenge.

Unless greater response is forthcoming soon, the races will have to be dropped from the winter sport program here.

When the Oney Johnston post basketball squad journeyed to Hortonville Friday evening for its first game with the Legionnaires there, it is planned to take as many Appleton fans as possible along as rooters. The team will make the trip by automobile, starting from the Y. M. C. A. at 7 o'clock Friday evening. Manager Eberts invites fans who wish to see the game to be at the assembling point at the hour stated. Transportation will be provided for as many as possible, and the services of any car owner willing to take a load of fans to the game will be appreciated.

The game will be followed by dancing in the Hortonville Opera house.

FIRE DESTROYS WOOD BARRACKS AT HIGH SCHOOL

Temporary Structure Is Total Loss and Contents Are Damaged

Appleton high school barracks were almost totally destroyed by fire which started from an unknown source about 10 o'clock Thursday morning during general assembly period. No students were in the building at the time. Two automobiles, one owned by the manual training department and the other by Karl A. Windesheim, an instructor, were damaged. Nothing but a shell remains of the building.

About $100 worth of books and equipment were lost by R. J. Grant, an instructor in the manual training department, and auto ignition and auto mechanic equipment was damaged.

Harry Cameron, another instructor in the manual training department, and two boys were thawing out frozen water pipes shortly before the fire started, but it is not believed that this was the cause. Ten minutes after the boys had stopped their work the building was ablaze.

Lee C. Rasey, principal, said that while it was impossible to determine the damages, the loss would be covered by insurance. The building, erected before Mr. Rasey became principal, was of poor construction and was only used by the manual training department. It originally was built for two classrooms and a workshop, but was not occupied, except as a workshop, since Mr. Rasey's administration.

John Hantschel, member of the school board, intended to introduce a resolution at the next school board meeting to tear down the barracks. Mr. Rasey said this is to be done now.

The partitions in the building, made of building board and lined with shavings, were quickly fired and firemen were forced to thrust their hose through the windows in order to quell the flames. The floor, the outside walls and the roof are all that remain. Students enjoyed a brief vacation, some standing around in groups outside; others packed to the windows of the high school proper. Classes were resumed at 10:40. Only one period, that following the general assembly, was missed.

MILLWRIGHTS LEARN ABOUT CARE OF BELTS

Loose Pulleys Responsible for Power Transmission Troubles

Loose pulleys, lack of alignment, and sticks and blocks to hold the pulleys are frequent causes of unsatisfactory belt transmission, according to A. R. Hooker of the Graton and Knight Manufacturing Co. who addressed the members of the Industrial Forum Wednesday evening at the Y. M. C. A. He spoke on "The Leather Belt, Its Uses and Abuses." A large group representing 20 industries of the Fox river valley were present. Most of the men in attendance were millwrights.

A good belt run on pulleys in perfect alignment will not leave the pulleys, Mr. Hooker said. Belt dressings put out by belt manufacturers are the safest. Chrome tanned belting is the most reliable because it will work in damp places where vegetable tanned belting will not stand up. Parts of hides not suitable for standard belts are used in by-products such as pump valves, automobile leather, sole leather, handbags, and hundreds of other products. Most belt trouble is caused by overloading, Mr. Hooker said.

The talk was accompanied by a motion picture showing the process of belt making from the back of the steer to the shop pulley. Points brought out by the picture were that it takes six months to tan belts properly for shop use and that 50 per cent of the tanned hide is used in making the standard belt. Mr. Hooker passed out pamphlets giving details on subjects relating to the manufacture and use of belts and this was followed by discussion of the subjects.

The subjects discussed were causes of unsatisfactory belt transmission, the method of calculating the size of belt needed to transmit a certain horsepower, belt dressings, belt tanning, belt splicing and tension allowed and pulley friction. A. W. Agrell and William Mehring were in charge of the program.

HUSBAND FREED FROM WOMAN WHO DESERTED HIM

Hortonia Man Says Letters Showed Wife's Love for "Other Man"

Two divorces were granted by Judge A. M. Spencer in municipal court on Tuesday, one to a husband and one to a wife.

Oscar Lehman of Hortonia, obtained an absolute divorce from Mrs. Hilma Lehman, who deserted him more than a year ago. Mrs. Lehman left her husband a year after their marriage to go to Sheboygan which is the home of the co-respondent in the case, E. Peacock. Mr. Lehman obtained possession of some of the letters that were exchanged between the couple and said behind reason to believe that she had strong feelings for the Sheboygan man. There was no issue from this marriage. Attorney Giles H. Putnam of New London represented the plaintiff, while the state was represented by Henry Kreiss, divorce counsel.

An absolute divorce was granted to Mrs. Emma Siedler upon her charge of cruel and inhuman treatment against her husband, Louis Siedler. Both parties now live in Kaukauna, but they have not been living together for the last five years, according to the testimony of Mrs. Siedler. The couple was married over 20 years ago in Edgar, Wis. There are two children, one of the daughters being married. Mrs. Siedler was awarded the custody of the other daughter, who is 19 years old, and is to receive $30 a month as alimony. The defendant will be permitted to visit his daughter once a week.

ROBBER IS SENT TO PRISON FOR 3 YEARS

Man Who Robbed Catholic Sister's Home Is Sent to Waupun

A sentence of three years imprisonment in the state prison in Waupun was imposed upon Philip Harkelski in municipal court in Oshkosh Tuesday morning for burglarizing the home of the Rev. Joseph Gabryssek, pastor of St. Joseph's Polish church in that city. Harkelski, who made a practice of robbing Catholic sisters according to D. K. Allen, district attorney, robbed the Sacred Heart sisters' home in Appleton on Dec. 13 and was apprehended the following day in Oshkosh while in the act of robbing the priest's home.

The sentence imposed by Judge Goss was the maximum penalty under the charge to which the prisoner pleaded guilty.

A large amount of money taken from these places was found on Harkelski when arrested, the district attorney said, and investigation showed the man made a practice of sending the stolen money to a Polish bank in Pennsylvania.

It was brought out that when arrested Harkelski feigned insanity until "cured" by the police, and he did the same thing at the county jail. He said he had been convicted before in New York, but when questioned as to the date, he said "long time ago."

FINISH TESTIMONY IN LAWYER'S SUIT TO RECOVER $4,573

Judge Spencer Takes Case Under Advisement and Orders Briefs

Following the completion of testimony in municipal court in the case of F. C. Smith vs. Nichols Land company for alleged breach of contract, the case was adjourned by Judge A. M. Spencer, and the attorneys for both parties were instructed to file briefs for arguments to be taken under advisement by the court. The plaintiff is represented by Ryan & Carey, and the defendant by Morgan & Johns.

Testimony was introduced to show that the plaintiff who is a lawyer and real estate broker of Seymour, did not receive his full compensation for realtor's and attorney's services in the alleged sale of the Nichols Land company's property in the village of Nichols. Mr. Smith declared that he was offered $5,000 commission for the sale of the property, that the property was sold to one J. A. Burrichter, and that he, Mr. Smith, had not yet received his full commission. The amount demanded for attorney's and realtor's services was $4,573.

On the other hand it was contended by the defendants that the contract with Mr. Smith was void since it was made between him and A. L. Nichols, president of the land company, without the knowledge or consent of stockholders or board of directors. It was also asserted that the land company had made another contract with Mr. Smith about ten months after the date of the first contract, and that this is the only contract that the company honors. The property, it was alleged in the testimony for the defendant, was never actually sold, but that Burrichter had merely obtained an option on it.

The alleged contract to which the plaintiff referred was made on June 7, 1922, while the second contract was entered into on July 24, 1923. The property to be sold included not only the unsold plat of Nichols but also a number of homes, store buildings and the casket factory.

On Nov. 4, 1922, an agreement was entered into by the Nichols Land company and J. A. Burrichter of St. Paul for the sale of the plat of Nichols for $89,675 on several conditions. Among them was the transfer of the property upon the payment of $45,000, after which a mortgage was to be taken on the balance of the property. The term of the contract was for 14 months. According to an inventory of the entire property, it was worth approximately $160,000.

KABAT'S HEARING FOR PARDON SLATED AT WAUPUN JAN. 26

Objections to His Release Must Be Filed With Board Before That Date

Wenzel E. Kabat, the perpetrator of a sensational murder at Kaukauna in 1906, is to have a hearing for pardon Jan. 26 at the state prison at Waupun where he is serving a life sentence, according to notice received from the state board of control by Attorney A. H. Krugmeyer and by the court. Mr. Krugmeyer is district attorney when the case was tried.

The hearing on the pardon application is to be at 10 o'clock on the morning of Jan. 26 at the office of the warden of the Waupun penitentiary and will be conducted by the state board of control.

Notices state that any person may submit reasons either in writing or verbally why they believe the pardon should not be granted. These are to be addressed to the state board of control in care of the prison at Waupun before the date of the hearing. It is said that a number of letters will be sent from Appleton asking that Kabat be kept in prison.

Kabat was arrested for slaying Mike McCarthy, of Kaukauna. He murdered the man after robbing him and then cremated the body to cover up his crime. He was tried in circuit court here before Judge John Gohndland for first degree murder, found guilty and given a life sentence. He escaped from prison but was recaptured.

SEEK MORE ROOM FOR CITY STREET DEPT. EQUIPMENT

Officials Also Are Considering
More Parking Space
Downtown

In addition to the problem of procuring adequate snow removal, two of the most important problems confronting the Appleton street department are those of obtaining new and larger quarters for street department machinery and the provision of public parking territory for automobiles, according to the view taken by several members on the common council.

As for providing more parking territory, two proposals have been voiced. One is to tear up the boulevard on Soldiers' square, leaving only the soldiers monument and taking the cannons to the park that it is to be improved in the Fourth ward at the foot of Cherry street. Like the bridge, this small park has been dedicated to the memory of the soldiers and sailors of America's last three wars, and city officials feel that the park with an array of cannons and other park ornaments will make an ideal entrance to the populated area of the city. Removal of the green terrace on Soldiers' square will thus provide additional parking space for automobiles in the downtown section.

Further parking space is required in the west end. It is maintained. For that reason some members of the council have proposed removing the street department barns at the foot of Walnut street and making this space together with the stock fair grounds a parking area for the west end business district.

The council is looking for a new site for street department buildings. Most of the available territory is near the outskirts of the city. Establishment of these buildings on the outskirts is considered unreasonable since by this location street department apparatus would be compelled to waste a good deal of time.

Some of the city officers have their eyes upon a site between the present location and Sherman place. This as a ravine-like tract that is said to offer peculiar advantages for the purpose some have in view. An entrance through a tunnel under the Chicago and Northwestern railway tracks is proposed. More substantial as well as more adequate quarters are needed for street department equipment, it is said. At present some of the apparatus has to be kept outdoors because there is no room for it.

RADIO PROGRAMS

More than 21,000 messages were received from radio listeners by the Victor Talking Machine Co., asking for the continuance of their classic recitals and telling how much McCormack and Bori were enjoyed and thousands of additional messages are pouring into the offices of the company and homes of artists each day. Messages were received from nearly every state in the Union and several points in Canada, many from isolated persons. Physically afflicted, who never would have heard McCormack or Bori except for radio sent in many messages. The next Victor concert will be given Thursday, Jan. 15, with Mme. Frances Alda and Miguel Pluta as the principals. Both have acquired fame on opera and concert stage and their programs will include music of the masters in which they have appeared at their best during their distinguished careers. Mme. Alda is an especially well-known artist.

WLS presents the famous opera, "The Merry Blossoms," Thursday night. Its presentation was written and produced by WLS artists especially for radio listeners and should attract all play lovers. WREO has a fine musical program featured by the Neo Motor Car Co., orchestra; a quartet; Raymond L. Bowers, tenor; and Kenneth Buckingham, baritone. WOC presents its usual excellent program. WGT presents another excellent program including The Harmonic Trio, John E. Quinlan, baritone; Marcel Dupre, pianist; organist on the Wanamaker organ in New York; Stephen E. Boelch on the Albany organ.

The Little Symphony orchestra, an old favorite takes the air from KDKA and her sister stations, KTV and WBEZ also have fine programs Thursday night.

TWO MORE CASES OF SMALLPOX IN CITY

After the small pox epidemic in Appleton had simmered down to a total of only 12 quarantined homes, two new cases were reported to the city health department on Thursday, and two more homes were ordered placed under quarantine. The greatest number of homes under quarantine at any time since the start of the epidemic was 17.

One of the factors in the spread of contagion is the tightness of families to call a physician. Some families wait for nearly two weeks before the case is brought to the attention of a physician or to the health department. In cases of that nature, the families often remain to have quarantine placards removed before the spread of time because the case had already progressed about two weeks before it was reported. It is said.

ALLEGED WIDOW CLAIMS SHARE OF MAN'S ESTATE

Green Bay—Joe Forcay, saloon keeper and a widower, died Dec. 7. His children had an administrator appointed for the estate. But now comes Mrs. Lettie Thompson into court claiming that she and the barkeeper were married some years ago, both using fictitious names in the ceremony and license. She claims dower right. The children never knew Mrs. Thompson Forcay. The judge gave the alleged widow until Saturday to convince the court she and Forcay were married.

FLOOD CITY HALL WITH REQUEST FOR NEW HOUSE NUMBERS

Householders Urged to Use Direction Prefix in Their Addresses

With the return of typewritten lists of house numbers from the printers Thursday, the street department was busy answering the requests of home owners for their new numbers. Most of the requests were made in personal calls, although some came over the telephone. A number of the residents were asking for new street maps containing the names of the new streets. The department was selling them at 25 cents each.

The first person to call for his house number Thursday morning was Henry Lembke, whose number was changed from 1206 Lennox-st to 1020 West Fourth-st. His street was one of the 30 or more that took a change in name recently. Residents applying for numbers were urged that when they begin using the new addresses after Feb. 1, they be certain they include the prefix, North, South, East or West.

MANITOWOC MAY ADD 7 WARDS TO ITS LIMITS

Manitowoc—After territory on the north, south and west sides of the city is annexed next spring the city may be redistricted into fourteen wards instead of the present seven, according to city officials. The matter has been referred to the street committee, which, with the city engineer, will work out a plan and report to the council.

City Attorney Kelley has ruled that, although residents of the annexed territory, technically, will not have been citizens of the city the legal ten days, they will be allowed to vote in the spring election on April 7. The new territory becomes a part of the city on April 5.

SHIPBUILDERS WANT BRIDGE AT MANITOWOC

Manitowoc—In a lengthy letter to the common council the Manitowoc Shipbuilding corporation has made an appeal for construction of a new bridge at Eighth-st.

The communication cites what the city has already lost because the present bridge on the lakes, and the largest ship on the lakes, and also states that the company has lost heavily for want of a modern structure to span the river.

The shipbuilding company's loss is the city's loss, the letter points out, and it mentions that the shipyards would have built three 600-foot boats this year but these contracts could not be signed because the narrow bridge draws could not handle boats of that dimension.
